

Pam's Notes: Hi Guys, here is the info about this cruise & land tour. I am expecting that this will be our last planned group tour. The prices have just gotten too expensive & it's harder to get a compatible group together. As usual with our trips, the focus is on the trip – not dancing. We do try to arrange at least one dance during the trip, but it's not guaranteed, it's as is available with the venue locations. We have had a chance on previous cruises with OAT to dance on the deck or at a hotel at least once & we will definitely shoot for that possibility. Also as usual, if I get my 11 people signed up & get a group discount, we will share the discount with the folks signed up. We have been on this particular ship before to Antarctica & we enjoyed it immensely. OAT always has fabulous guides & they will give us briefings about our ports along the way. We will be in cabin 507 and we always plan to have dinner as a group. We will go on this trip whether we get group status or not. We love to travel with friends & hope you will consider joining us on this trip!!!!
